Todd: How international are you? Todd: Oh, OK. Katie: Even English movies, I haven't seen very many. At eight feet long, seven feet wide and seven feet six inches high, these smaller shippers have a capacity of 420 cubic feet. 10-Foot Container Length Ten-foot used steel shipping containers actually measure nine feet ten inches in length, but the inches are rounded up to get the ten foot measurement. MORE FROM QUESTIONSANSWERED.NET Todd: OK, Katie. Misses Newton has already phoned three times to inquire about the delivery of her goods. Katie: OK. You can do this grammar quiz online or print it on paper. Actually, I don't think I have. Ah, I've eaten, how do you say it, falafel. Todd: Have you ever studied an Asian Language? Todd: Have you ever seen a German movie? Katie: Yeah, I've eaten pho before. I took a bus from England to Prague, so the bus drove through France, but it never stopped. You should also check with your own insurance company to find out if there is any supplemental insurance you should be considering in case there are accidents along the way that may not be covered by the carrier's insurance. Do a Walk-through Prior to Shipping Similar to a landlord walk-through, a shipping walk-through is an opportunity for both you and the shipping representative to take note of any damage or marks on your car prior to shipping. I once studied French years ago, but I haven't spoken French in so long I can't remember anything. Shipping containers also come with a variety of door styles to consider. Todd: Yeah, me too. Maybe, I've met a secret Spanish person. Like, I've eaten Greek yogurt. Katie: I think so. We have not yet received a remittance for the goods supplied to you. Todd: OK, have you bought something from Japan? Todd: OK, have you ever bought something from Italy? Katie: Nope. Todd: My Thai is OK. It tests what you learned on the Past Perfect page. Todd: Well, the thing is, in Hollywood in America, all the famous actors are Canadian, so I think everybody's seen a Canadian movie. In addition to shipping goods, containers of this size can be used for office space, tiny homes and storing things like lawn care equipment and motorcycles. 20-Foot Container Length The 20-foot shipping container is the one that's typically referred to as a standard shipping container, according to Mr. Box. Following are tips for shipping your vehicle. Decide Between Covered and Uncovered Carrier When shipping your car, truck, SUV or other vehicle, you can decide between a carrier that's covered or carrier that's uncovered. People will choose uncovered carriers primarily because they're as much as 60 percent less expensive than covered. Next, students complete sentences with one word from the brackets. Todd: Oh, OK. Action that is still going on Situation that is still the same as it was in the past. I love Seoul. Todd: You know, I haven't really. Katie: I see. Action in the past that has an influence on the present Action that was completed in the past, but has an influence on a present situation. Probably, I've met a Brazilian person. The focus is on the result. Katie: I don't think I have met a Spanish person. Todd: Pho, the noodles? Todd: Yeah, I've met a few people from Brazil, so they're always very nice. You'll need to determine for yourself what's worth it. Confirm How Much Liability Coverage the Shipping Company Has Before your car leaves on its journey, make sure that you're clear on the amount of liability coverage the shipping company will be carrying for your car. Todd: First, have you ever eaten Greek food? When you ship a car within the United States, it takes about four weeks from when the car is picked up to the time that it arrives at its final destination. Katie: Yeah, how about you? OK, last one, have you ever eaten Vietnamese food? If you're interested in a "scheduled pickup," you get to choose your own pick-up time. Todd: Yeah, maybe I haven't eaten Russian food either. Tunnels have doors on both ends, so people can pass through easily to move goods. I've had that, but apart from that, I've never eaten Greek food. Todd: Ah, I've been to countries in Europe. Katie: Thank you. I've been to Cambodia, and Laos. Not at all. OK, anyway, thanks Katie. I will say this, I love ... I have just received your mail. Borscht is like a cabbage soup. Note that you must not give a certain time for the action in the past (if you want to use a time expression, you must use Simple Past). Katie: What's Russian food? These mid-size shipping containers have the capacity of 668.667 cubic feet. This will protect you at the end of the journey if any damage is sustained during transport. Katie: I've been to Germany, I've been to Hong Kong, I've been to South Korea, and I've been to China. Ultimately, it will come down to your budget. Settle In for a Long Wait Shipping a vehicle can take much longer than people realize. Lastly, students write three true sentences about themselves using the present perfect with just, yet and already. Katie: OK, now let's talk about languages. With 1,360 cubic feet of space inside, there's almost enough space for 100 regular-sized washing machines. Actually, I have been to France a couple of times. If the car is being picked up and shipped overseas, you're looking at a six- to eight-week timeline. Todd: OK, have you ever eaten Russian food? Todd: Oh boy! That's impossible. Katie: I've studied Japanese. Does that count? I love Seoul, Korea. Ten-foot shipping containers measure the full height of eight-foot six inches and the full width of eight feet. Todd: OK, and have you met a Brazilian person? Is it pho? Katie: I've definitely seen a Canadian actor. I can still speak it a little bit now, and I studied a little bit of Korean, but I don't speak Korean. We want to emphasize that the situation has not changed. Students then move on to rewrite sentences, adding already or yet in the correct place. Todd: Have you ever been to France? Examples: I have lost Misses Wilde's phone number. Very friendly people. Todd: Ooh, how nice. My high school has a house in France, so for our school trips we would go to France every year. Katie: How about your Thai? Katie: Yeah, it's delicious. Katie: Ah, I see it written down. Todd: Let's take an international test. I've been to Spain so, I've met a few and we have a Spanish teacher at our school. Todd: Wow, you've been to a lot of places. Todd: Oh, really. Katie: I haven't seen a German movie. Katie: Oh, yes, I've meet lots of Chinese people. MORE FROM QUESTIONSANSWERED.NET P. He has spoken. I've lived in Japan for a few years, so I've bought all kinds of things from Japan. Keep those timelines in mind so that you can figure out if you'll need to rent a car while you wait for your vehicle to arrive. Decide Between a Scheduled Pick-up or Open Transport. When you choose the "open transport" shipping method, it means that the shipping company will call you when they have a slot available that's going to your destination. Katie: Uh, I don't know. Todd: OK, what was the brand? Examples: I have typed five letters. I have bought - not for me - but I bought my mother a bag from Italy one time. And pho the noodles is really good. N. He has not spoken. Examples: I have never been to our New York subsidiary. Katie: Hmm, I've never eaten Russian food. It's OK. The downside to that is that you're going to end up paying a lot more. I can talk a little bit. Present Perfect Simple is used for actions that started in the past and stopped recently or are still going on. I've been to Israel. Katie: Wow. Using a shipping container to store your things or as a tiny house is a way to cut costs compared to building a structure from scratch, and it's good for the environment because you're reusing something that has already fulfilled its intended purpose. 40-Foot Container Length A 40-foot shipping container delivers 2,720 cubic feet of space where you can securely lock items you need to store, or to use as living or office space. Wow, like I've studied Thai because I lived in Thailand for five years, and like you I've studied Japanese, but my Japanese is terrible. Examples: Your advice has always been extremely helpful. We want to emphasize how often the action has taken place so far. Todd: OK, have you met a Chinese person? Make sure that any damage is carefully noted. Katie: I have no idea. How about you? Carriers should have anywhere between $50,000 and $100,000 worth of coverage. Todd: Oh, is that Greek? Todd: What other countries have you been to? Katie: From Italy. Todd: I think, Russian food, is it borscht? I haven't seen very many movies. Grammar Quizzes Grammar Games If you're moving from one country to another or simply across the country, you may have to ship your car or other vehicle. I studied French for five years. Todd: Yeah, all actors in America are Canadian it seems like. Todd: Really? Katie: A Spanish person? Todd: That counts? Todd: OK, and now we'll move on to countries. Q. Has he spoken? Todd: Well, have you seen a Canadian movie? This is a present perfect with just, already and yet worksheet for pre-intermediate students. Let's find out. Signal Words of Present Perfect Simple already, ever, just, never, not yet, so far, till now, up to now - Detailed Explanation and Exercises on Present Perfect Simple Practice Community There are two main height and four main length options when it comes to the size of shipping containers. Katie: I feel like if I say no, then I have. Knowing exactly what to expect when shipping your vehicle will help eliminate many of the issues that may arise. Action that stopped recently Action that has just been completed. I worked in Thailand, and I've been to Taiwan and Korea. The downside to an undercover carrier is that your car is left exposed to the elements. She asked me to buy a brand and I bought it, but I don't know which one it was. Todd: I've had that too. OK. What countries have you been to? Probably, Katie: That counts. Katie: Oh, maybe I have met a Spanish person then. This requirement doesn't leave a lot of room for creativity in sizes. Open-sided and double open-sided shippers have doors that open down the entire length of the shipper. Katie: Yeah. Katie: Oh, OK. Todd: Oh, can you still speak French? Have I? Katie: Let's find out. Katie: I can't remember anything either. After that, students complete sentences using the present perfect with just and a verb in brackets. Todd: Oh, interesting. We have agreed on the following points: Action that so far has taken place never, once or several times Action that happened / did not happen in the past. Katie: I've bought lots of things from Japan. I have. Todd: Yeah, I've been to Vietnam so I've eaten Vietnamese food a lot. It's a great city. OK, so have you ever met a Spanish person? These smaller containers are also a foot narrower and shorter than standard and high-cube shippers, and require special shipping accommodations, according to Mr. Box. This is a cheaper option because it's basically at the will of the company's schedule and what it has available. Todd: Ah, I think I have. Have you been to France? Todd: OK, we'll talk about movies. We want to emphasize the result. Container sizes may also be indicated in metric measurements, depending on the standards of the company selling them. 8-Foot Shipping Container Length Shipping container dimensions can include several different lengths, where the shortest one is typically the eight-foot shipping container. Students then complete sentences in the present perfect using word pairs from a box. Sizes don't vary too much beyond that, because shipping containers are built to conform to international shipping standards, according to Mr. Box. Shipping Container Heights While there may be slight variations on standard shipping container dimensions, most are within a couple inches because the containers need to be stackable for loading on freighters. First, students fill in gaps with just, yet or already to complete present perfect rules about the three words. Katie: Greek food? Katie: I have. Have you ever studied French? The two main heights of shipping containers are standard at seven-foot six-inches and high-cube at eight-foot six-inches, as noted by Mr. Box. Which country did you like the best?
